

BRACHETTO DOC/ASTI SECCO DOCG/ASTI DOCG

Variety - BRACHETTO/MOSCATO D'ASTI

Region - Piedmont – Acqui Terme

Acquesi only produces DOC and DOCG wines from the region of Piedmont.

Soil

Piedmont is a diverse region with many microclimates. Monferrato, in the Province of Asti, is one of the most famous grape-growing areas of Piedmont, and now a UNESCO World Heritage site.

Winemaking

Acquesi is produced using Metodo Martinotti in which the brief secondary fermentation takes place in large vats, preserving all the natural aromas. The wines must go through a cold fermentation to achieve the proper balance of flavor, aroma, fruit, and delicate perlage.

History

In 1895, the Italian oenologist Federico Martinotti, from the Province of Asti, invented the world famous method for sparkling wine based on controlled fermentation in large vats. 20 miles away and a little over 50 years later, Acquesi was founded in Acqui Terme, Piedmont in 1952. We have recently re-launched this brand with its iconic, Liberty Style design, dating back to the early 1900s from the city of Turin, Italy. Our unforgettable floral pattern symbolizes this period's elegance and joy.

Alcohol: 6.5% (Brachetto) 7% (Asti) 11% (Asti Secco)

Tasting Notes & food pairings

The Brachetto has an enticing deep rose color with an elegant perlage. The bouquet consists of raspberry, cherry, and delicate rose petals.

A pleasant acidity complements the sweet flavor, matching perfectly with fresh cheeses, savory or spicy cuisine, and sexy chocolate desserts.

The Asti secco has a fine and persistent perlage, floral and aromatic aromas typical of Moscato bianco with a dry palate. Ideal to be paired with delicious and succulent appetizers, as well as combined with a whole meal of delicious dishes.

The Asti has the aromas and flavors of honeycomb and peach blossom with a creamy, bright, spritzy, off-dry light body and a cheery finish with fine, fruit tannins. A playful and sweet, daytime sipper.

Serve between 38-50° F / 5-10° C.
